The Parent-Toddler Program is a unique learning experience for parent and child to enjoy together. A Montessori Educator, certified by the Institute of Advanced Montessori Studies in Infant-Toddler education, will open the environment specifically designed for the young child of 18 months to 3 years.

The child will be encouraged to explore at will, freely choosing materials that foster self development in an atmosphere of special understanding. The comfort of this environment promotes a peaceful first introduction for the young child with opportunities to practice social interactions with peers and other adults.

The parent is present to nurture and support their child's growing need for independence. Parents will learn the basic principles of the Montessori method and take home ideas and suggestions for creating a supportive home for children.

The Montessori Educator is a guide and a resource. He will model interactions, share new information and research, and facilitate discussions.
